He then proceeded with his most optimistic review of the war situation in months but warned that “deadly dangers still beset us” and that all must drive to the limit of what is possible.

ARMED MEN IN AUTO ARE SIGHTED

(International News Service)
DETROIT, Oct. 12.—The state police in Detroit reported today that a blockade has been established on all highways in the vicinity of Kalamazoo, Mich., after an automobile bearing Illinois license plates and containing "three or four men" who were armed was seen on U. S. 12 west of Kalamazoo.

The Detroit state police said they were operating on the theory that the men in the car might be some of the seven desperadoes who shot their way out of the Stateville prison in Illinois. Among the convicts who escaped was the notorious Roger Touhy.

It was reported in Detroit that the automobile, a Mercury sedan, was parked alongside the highway when an unidentified motorist stopped to see if he could offer aid. In reporting the incident to police, the motorist said the occupants of the car told him to "beat it." He said the sedan was "full of guns."

HITLER FORESEES
SAYS CHURCHILL

their powers "in this stern and sombre moment in the war which calls in high degree for firmness of spirit and constancy of soul."

Hitler Sees Doom

Hitler, Churchill said, is "a man now conscious of the fact that doom and disaster overshadow him and fully cognizant that the nations he holds in thrall are seething with rebellion, ready to strike the moment Allied armies land on the continent of Europe."

He produced a "balance sheet" designed to show that Allied defects thus far in reality "stepping stones to victory." Here are the encouraging points he stressed:

1—The Russian armies are intact, unbroken and undefeated, counter-attacking all the way from Leningrad to the Caucasus.

2—with winter approaching and fearful losses suffered in Russia the German people are "wincing" under the impact of British bombings.

3—Allied shipping construction now outweighs losses, and the last few months have marked definite growth of Allied air superiority over the Axis.

The body, removed to the Joseph B. Leyde mortuary, Highland at Winter, was taken to the residence this morning where friends may call until Wednesday at 10 a.m. when the body will be returned to the Leyde mortuary for services Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in Graceland cemetery.

4—Australian and American troops have made a "good advance" in New Guinea.

Solid Facts

"It is not my habit to encourage vain expectations," he said. "But these are the solid and remarkable facts."

Referring to the German command's order that British prisoners taken at Dieppe be chained as a result of unsubstantiated charges that Nazi troops were treated similarly in a commando raid on the English channel island of Sack, Churchill said:

"I say that to show any weakness of any kind to such a man is only to encourage him to further atrocities."

"And you may be assured that no weakness will be shown."

The prime minister spoke at ceremonies giving him the freedom of the city of Edinburgh before a large group of distinguished guests which included United States Ambassador John G. Winant.

Through all the boasting and threats of Hitler, Goering and Ribbentrop, he said, "There runs a note of fear. They are all speeches of men conscious of their guilt and conscious of law."

The most striking and curious part of Hitler's recent speech (opening the winter relief drive at the sportspalast in Berlin) was his complaint that no one gave sufficient attention to his victories...

It strikes chill into his marrow because in his heart he knows that with all his tremendous victories and vast conquests his fortunes have declined and his prospects have darkened to an immeasurable degree in the last two years, while at the same time Britain, the United States, Russia and China have moved through tribulation and sorrow steadily forward from strength to strength."

TANK ASSAULTS
AT STALINGRAD
CEASE FOR TIME

heavy losses," the communiqué said.

"In the Mozdok area our troops recaptured lost positions in stubborn fighting."

Heavy Blows In Caucasus

Although the Russians had seized the initiative on this one sector of the Mozdok front the Germans continued to smash heavy blows at the Soviet lines throughout the mid-Caucasus.

The German command threw in large numbers of tank and infantry reinforcements and new air units.

Soviet forces operating in the west Caucasus southeast of Novorossisk surrounded a German-held village and severely battered the enclave.

Of two German regiments surrounded by the Soviets half of the enemy effective were wiped out the high command said.

Far to the northwest on the Leningrad front Russian forces captured an important height in the Sinyavino area, 60 miles southeast of Leningrad, field dispatches said.

The Germans battled fiercely in counter-attacks to recapture the height but their assaults were repelled and heavy losses inflicted on them.

Moscow officials were extremely heartened by the remarkable turn of events at Stalingrad.

As yet it is too early to determine whether the Nazis have abandoned all efforts to take the city but the stoppage of tank and infantry drives is in conformity with a German announcement last week that only artillery and air forces would be employed in the future to reduce Soviet opposition.

The cessation of the Nazi assaults was not unexpected since the German armies besieging Stalingrad have been bled white by the stiff defense put by the Russians.

Friends acted as pallbearers. Interment was in Oak Park cemetery.

Dr. Robert Wells Veach, officiating at the double ring ceremony, heard the exchange of vows at 8:30 o'clock before an altar beautifully banked with green foliage and white asters and chrysanthemums. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in pond lily white moire, princess design. She carried white chrysanthemums. Her fingertip length veil of illusion was held in place by tiny seed pearls. Her only ornament was a miniature of her great, great grandmother.

Her sister, Mrs. John Ratzsky, as matron of honor, wore green crepe and carried white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Robert Cowher, of New Castle, and Mrs. Robert Wallace, of Akron, bridesmaids, were gowned alike in gold crepe and carried bronze chrysanthemums. Best man for the groom was his brother-in-law, Howard Sheeler. His two brothers, Robert Cowher, of New Castle, and Harold Cowher, of Fredonia, O., served as ushers. Miss Helen Sabagel presented a recital of wedding music and played the traditional wedding marches. Among her numbers were "Liebestraum," by Liszt, "Nocturne," by Chopin, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Call" and "I Love You Truly," by Carrie Jacobs Bond.

Reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. Mrs. Wylie Wallace and Mrs. John Komar, friends of the bride, were aides.

Mrs. Cowher, a graduate of South High school, Youngstown, and of the Dana Institute of Music, is a teacher of piano.

Mr. Cowher, who graduated from Union High school, operates a poultry farm on the New Castle-Youngstown road, where the young couple will be at home after returning from their wedding trip to Durham, N. C.

In Durham they will visit the bride's brother, Dr. Theodore Ropp, of Duke University, and Mrs. Ropp.

Delightfully informal was the 1 o'clock luncheon held on Saturday afternoon in the lovely flower gardens of Mrs. B. K. Thacker on Knox avenue, when she entertained as guests, the S. E. B. class of the First Methodist church, and three special visitors. They were Mrs. B. R. McKnight, wife of their new pastor, Dr. B. R. McKnight, Mrs. W. C. Meecham of Elwood City and a former member; and Mrs. Grace Crawford.

With the warm weather prevailing, the assemblage of upwards of twenty were seated at tables prettily appointed and arranged in the Thacker gardens where a deliciously prepared menu was served. Mrs. Thacker had as aides on her committee, Mrs. J. H. Elmore, Mrs. Roy Miller, Mrs. H. P. Campbell and Mrs. J. W. Anderson.

Preceding however, the invocation was given by their teacher, Mrs. S. Elmer Baer, and for whom the class is named. During the time that ensued, Mrs. A. Hoffmaster conducted an impressive devotional period.

Their next meeting on Monday, November 2, will be with Mrs. Lucy Marquis on Highland avenue.

RETREAT FROM ATTU

THREE developments in the great Pacific theater of war combine to give substance to the theory that the Japanese have reached the end of their conquests, gained in that first overpowering onslaught against unprepared opponents, and will in the future be on the defensive.

They are on their way out of the Aleutians, having abandoned Attu and Agattu, while still holding Kiska, and they are still in retreat over the Owen Stanley range following their threat to Port Moresby. Meanwhile, the United States Marines on Guadalcanal, the large island of the Southern Solomons that was recaptured from the Japanese last August, have been strongly reinforced, making virtually certain its retention by the United Nations.

These are impressive evidences of growing power which may seem to be slow in reaching a point of superior strength, but which is nevertheless sufficient to alter the whole status of Western Pacific operations. Even a cautious and conservative appraisal of the situation as it now stands must reveal that the initiative has passed from the Japanese to the United States and that the enemy must adapt himself to changed conditions of warfare.

This change is not to be interpreted as the beginning of a swift decline of Japanese military power leading to crushing defeat within a matter of months. It is rather the initial phase of a long and hard struggle which will require superb leadership, which the United Nations possess in the Pacific, and tremendous resources, which are or will be available.

But regardless of the strategy of conquest devised by the United Nations, whether it contemplates a step-by-step recovery of all the lost ground—a long and costly process—or an attack from the north at the heart of Japan, the source from which the forces of aggression flow to greatly extended battle lines, using the Aleutians as a jumping-off place, the struggle will be hard and costly.

The retreats from the Aleutians and the collapse of the Port Moresby attack cannot be accepted as evidence of the disintegration of Japanese power. But they are significant signs that the fighting in the future will be on more even terms.

STILL HEADED FOR HOARDING

An official of the Tea Bureau in New York, a trade organization, has just remarked that there is "enough tea in the United States to meet present demand for six to seven months."

Early last February the usual "unnamed officials" of WPB and OPA were quoted from Washington as estimating a six months' normal supply then on hand. On March 28, WPB decreed that grocers could sell only half as much tea to consumers as they had been getting.

We are, to all intents, going through the same preliminaries with regard to tea that we experienced with coffee and, earlier, sugar, gasoline and tires, namely official and semi-official predictions of shortages to come; restrictions upon wholesalers and retailers; but no moves to establish formal rationing.

This timorous, ineffective formula always has the same inevitable results. It produced sugar hoarding, then a sugar panic; finally, much too late, sugar rationing. It produced gasoline shortages and closed gas stations until rationing came in to stabilize the situation. It has just now produced a coffee panic which to an important extent is due to overbuying—that is, hoarding.

It encourages tea hoarding, canned goods hoarding, all kinds of hoarding, and all the lectures on the iniquity of it from Washington officials won't stop it. One firm, decisive action on their part, such as is dictated by ordinary common sense, will stop it. They owe it to the non-hoarders, who, we believe, are in the vast majority, to take that action and end these fiascos for the duration.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

ORE AND VISITING TURKS

When it was announced last November that Turkey and Germany had entered a general trade agreement, there was a strong suspicion that this was a diplomatic setback for Great Britain, which had been bidding for Turkish favor. Now some of the fruits of that agreement are becoming visible. The Turks have contracted to send 45,000 tons of chrome, half of their annual output, to the Krupp armament works in exchange for German arms.

Turkey is the principal source of this ore for British and American war industries. If it be wondered what the Germans are doing sending arms to the Turks, who threaten to fight if invaded, a clew is visible in the German refusal to ship planes or tanks—nothing large or ultra-modern. Turkey will get assorted ordnance weapons, which she has been attempting to get from Krupp since the start of the war. Even at that, the Turks refuse to deliver the chrome until the German arms are in their hands. There is no evidence of confidence on either side of this bargain in which cold self-interest rules.

At the moment when the chrome-arms exchange was being announced, a group of five Turkish journalists descended from a clipper at New York for an escorted tour of the United States under Washington auspices. To impress important neutrals is standard belligerent procedure, as America learned when it was still in neutral status.

From Ankara to Detroit, Pittsburgh, Los Angeles and other centers of American war production is an even longer distance than the geographical mileage would suggest. If Turkish readers can be made to realize the magnitude of America's war effort, and this stiffens their resistance to Hitler, there will be at least some moral compensation for the chrome now flowing to Krupp instead of to British and American factories.

Those Yanks are swarming down the Aleutians. And if the Japs have ideas about hiving them, they had better think again.

Dancing masters of America say they are designing their dances now to build physical fitness. The jittering steps did a pretty good job.

Traffic deaths in the United States have decreased 40 per cent, and national gasoline rationing and 35-mile speed limit are expected to effect a further reduction. In fact, if there were no automobiles nobody would be killed by them.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

HELP PUPIL TO ACHIEVE SUCCESS

Now that several weeks of school have passed, we parents should take stock of the child's school progress and his physical and mental health. Does he sleep well? Is he having enough hours of sleep? Does he have a regular bedtime hour?

Has the child grown more excitable or irritable? Does he bite his fingernails or bite them more? Has he any other show of nervousness?

Is he more stubborn than usual or more quarrelsome with his playmates? Does he cry easily? Does his face look relaxed or strained? Does he complain of headaches or wrinkle his forehead? This could be a sign of eye strain. Perhaps his vision should be checked. What of his appetite? Is he finicky over food or does he eat heartily of what is set before him?

Related To School Work

Some or all of the foregoing items may be related to his school experience—to difficulties at getting along well with his schoolmates or to lagging in one or more school subjects.

In case he is lagging at school, you will want to get in touch with his teacher to find out just where his trouble lies. Don't be satisfied if the teacher merely says that the child does not study hard enough or is inattentive. You will want to know what is back of these alleged faults. It is possible, of course, that the youngster has developed loafing or day-dreaming habits. But almost surely these habits have grown up because he has not enjoyed learning successes. You and I can't keep alert and continuously attentive when we are enjoying no successes at what we are supposed to do.

Get Teacher's Help

Without your criticizing the teacher, try to get her to analyze for you further the specific learning difficulties your child has. Are they due to his not having mastered some earlier necessary skills or facts in spelling or arithmetic? Is he a poor reader? My special home help in any one of these subjects may be had by writing me. Be sure to enclose the self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

You will see that your child is home on nights before school and, in the upper grades and high school, see that he starts his homework at a regular time and place.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. At what age and in what order do the first set of teeth appear in the average baby?

A. According to Feagre and Anderson (Child Care and Training), the 2 lower incisors appear from 6 to 9 months; 4 upper incisors, 8 to 12 months; 2 lower lateral incisors, 12 to 15 months; 4 anterior molars, 12 to 15 months; 4 canines (incisor, eye teeth), 18 to 24 months; 2 back molars, 24 to 30 months. Of course, children differ widely in time of teething. Did you know that the first teeth, while irregular in their appearance, are all formed in the jaw before the baby's birth? You see why proper diet of the expectant mother is important.

WE'RE AT WAR

Bear the hardships with a grin!

We're at war!

Trouser seats a trifling thin?

We're at war!

Less of sugar in the tea?

We're at war!

Longer stay-at-homes are we?

Then contented let us be,

We're at war!

Keep the twinkle in the eye!

We're at war!

What if taxes seem too high?

We're at war!

Must the mother darn the hose?

That's one flaw which never shows.

Also everybody know

We're at war!

Let us keep the grumbling down.

We're at war!

It takes little pluck to frown.

We're at war!

Against those who do and dare

And the bitter fighting bear,

Waal, we'll see our share,

We're at war!

Now's the time for being brave!

We're at war!

If we're forced to scrimp and save,

We're at war!

No use grumbling; fretting's vain.

Back once more to living plain

Let's be patient, yes, and sane,

We're at war!

Mumbling instead of speaking clearly is a bad habit that amounts to poor manners. It embarrasses those to whom you are speaking.

Rev. Thornton Speaks Again

Makes Third Address In Protest Against Local Liquor Conditions

SAYS MARCH ON CITY HALL PLANNED

Third of the series of meetings being conducted to protest liquor conditions in the city and county, took place last night at the Central Christian church on Long avenue, with Rev. William A. Thornton, pastor of Epworth church again making the address and a number of the south side churches cooperating.

The meeting was in charge of the Rev. Sydney K. Bliss pastor of the church. The invocation was given by Rev. Sulmonetti of the Italian mission. Rev. Charles J. Burton of St Andrews Episcopal church read the scripture and Rev. Thos. J. Jones of the First Congregational church offered the prayer.

Rev. Thornton reiterated that the meetings were not primarily for the purpose of re-enacting prohibition, or to discuss whether to drink or not to drink, neither was the question being raised whether under the existing laws a proper person was entitled to a license to sell intoxicants. It is rather to raise the question, he said, as to whether a license to sell liquor also conferred upon the licensee the right to unload upon the city streets a record number of drunks and half drunks, to demoralize minors and young children, to degrade American womanhood, to operate disreputable dives and joints and to create conditions on the main thoroughfares of the city which were an offense to people with even an elemental sense of decency.

He asserted that not more than 150 people out of a population of 47,000 were proprietors of liquor dispensing establishments and that they were receiving consideration out of all proportion to their numbers and that the great mass of decent citizenship in the city was getting no recognition or consideration in its reasonable request for a thoroughgoing and drastic clean-up of offensive and intolerable conditions.

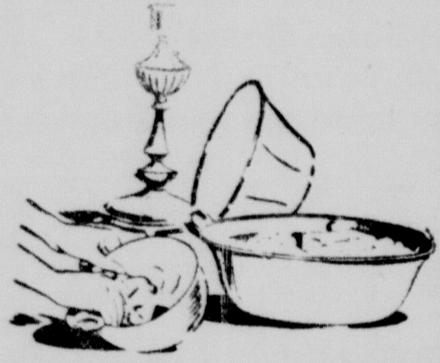

Rev. Thornton asserted that every pre-repeal pledge had been repudiated by those in the liquor business. Not a promise had been made good and that every evil that marked the old time conditions was back aggravated and intensified the speaker declared.

Rev. Thornton promised that other meetings would be held to still further arouse public sentiment and stated that plans were pending for a march upon the City Hall on the part of a large number of representative citizens from all walks of life to demand from the mayor and city council and others responsible for a clean and orderly city relief and redress from the conditions which now prevail.

He said that a representative of the State Liquor Control Board had promised to attend such a meeting which might have the effect of bringing to an end a lot of alibis and buck passing and fastening the responsibility where it really belonged.

If soldiers were free to pick the best jobs, as others are, there would be none in uniform except generals.

When the New Castle Notion Building was built in 1905, ten double steel beams were left extended out about 14 feet to provide for an addition later. The addition was never built but the beam extensions will come in handy for steel for tanks.

Richard Marquis, in charge of the Marquis estate, donated the beams to the scrap collection and in a day or so, welders of the Forney Company will cut them off to the building. In the picture at the extreme left is J. L. McMillan, office manager of the New Castle Notion Company and John B. Offutt, president of the company. 'On the beam' with a Marquis mask over his face is Bill Cerruti of Conn's Welding Company who gives you an idea of what will happen to the beams.

State Liquor Store Wage Controversy Not Settled Yet

May Affect All Stores In State

Executive Committee Of State Store Employees To Meet Today On Next Move

BASIC WAGE RAISE DEMAND OF CLERKS

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(C. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 12.—Operation of the nation's largest liquor monopoly with its 579 state-owned stores appeared today to be grinding slowly to a halt in Pennsylvania as a wage dispute between the Liquor Control Board and state store clerks entered its second week.

The controversy which started a week ago Saturday with a one-day walkout demonstration by clerks in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, and was followed on Monday by their suspensions by the board, showed no signs of nearing a settlement. The clerks are asking a 20 per cent cost-of-living increase in their basic $23-$26 weekly wage.

May Close All Stores

The clerks, affiliated with the C. I. O. State, County and Municipal Workers of America, predicted that all liquor stores in the state would close because they would be unable to obtain supplies. They asserted that the teamsters union (A. F. L.) would refuse to replenish the stocks of stores which were picked.

Spokesmen for the clerks' union said that 240 stores in Delaware, Chester, Lehigh, Butler, Northampton, Schuylkill, Philadelphia, Allegheny, Mercer, Beaver, Westmoreland and Montgomery were already closed. Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, the state's two largest cities, were feeling the liquor drought the most, with taprooms in the two communities reported hard hit.

The Liquor Control Board, headed by Chairman Fred T. Gelder, gave no indication what its next step would be, although the liquor monopoly director had stated last week that the stores would operate with new personnel if a settlement was not reached soon.

Await Next Step

I. Karl Krichoff, a store manager and president of the Philadelphia local of the clerks' union, said the controversy might be submitted to the War Labor Board, but doubt was expressed in other circles that Gelder and Gov. Arthur H. James would agree to this.

Krichoff headed a seven-man committee which negotiated with Gelder last week but was unable to reach an agreement on the board's terms that the clerks drop their wage demands and return to work with a non-strike promise. Krichoff notified the board Saturday that this offer could not be accepted and instead suggested that it agree to the opening of wage negotiations as a corollary to the workers return or submit the entire dispute to arbitration. Both Gelder and the governor have insisted that the only principle at stake is the right of the clerks "to strike against the state." This could not be countenanced, they asserted.

The union's executive committee was slated to meet today and the membership tomorrow to discuss the clerks' next move. The result may be an intensified drive to close all the state stores, an attempt to renew negotiations, or both.

Press On To Victory

Years ago J. F. Rentz, general manager of The News, started learning his trade as a printer, on this job press. Just how old the press is, nobody is sure but over the years it has had a sentimental attraction for Mr. Rentz. But the war transcends sentiment and the press is now in the scrap pile at the scrap depot on the Pennsylvania Power grounds.

In the picture left to right are Richard E. Rentz of the advertising department of The News, his father J. F. Rentz, general manager of The News, and Fred L. Rentz, president of The News. There will be no more printed matter come off this press but there will be some first class steel calling cards for Hitler and Hirohito.

Ellwood High Wins From Monaca 7-6

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 12—Ellwood High school football gridirons covered themselves with mud, sweat and glory on Saturday afternoon at Monaca when they came from behind in the third quarter to shade the Monacans by a 7 to 6 score in a rough and tumble game.

Monaca broke a scoreless deadlock in the second period when Joe Turbush, their big fullback, tossed a 45-yard pass to Sam Ciccozi, a substitute end, who caught the ball on the 20 and ran unopposed to score. Turbush took the ball on a lateral from Renzo wh had snatched a lateral from Oshanksi. It was a beautiful play, the kind you seldom see save in the movies. Galia's drop-kick for the extra point was no good and the Monaca outfit was leading 6 to 0.

Ellwood Comes Back

The Craft-Gills machine came back strong in the third quarter to march 85 yards downfield to score. Ellwood took the ball on their own 15. Conti scored the touchdown and in so doing presented one of the best performances credited to the locals. Slashing and knifing he forced his way through the stiff Monaca line, making openings where there weren't any, in so doing, he injured his back and neck repre-

Taking the ball on Ellwood's 15, Conti went around right end for 17 yards. Tilia, substituting for Glagowski, made the game's feature run, when he got away for 49 yards before being stopped on Monaca's 24. In the next eight plays, Conti taking the ball everywhere, forced his way to Monaca's goal, finally going over from the one-yard marker on the fourth down. It was a thrilling performance and sent the Ellwood cheering section, which was very large, into definite action.

To add the extra point, which meant the difference between a tie and a victory, Conti once again knifed the line successfully. Ellwood was ahead 7 to 6.

Bitterly Fought

The game was bitterly fought all the way and the fourth quarter was a mad scramble as Monaca tried recklessly to score again. It was marked with fumbles, frayed tempers, penalties, and injuries with a broiling sun and dirt field adding nothing to the serenity of the players.

It was a fine victory for the Ellwood team which was playing one of the strongest valley outfits. Luxenburg, who played the entire game at quarterback, in place of the regu-

Scrap Campaign To Open Tonight On Line Avenue</

MOUNTAINS OF SCRAP WILL SAVE THOUSANDS OF LIVES!

Stockpiles like this are needed all over the country so that our Government can plan our armament program — and our mills and plants can deliver the fighting tools!

Get in on the drive that started Saturday. Get the unused metal out of your cellar, your attic, your garage, your place of business. Without this scrap the Nation's steel mills must shut down, for all new steel is 50% scrap, and the mills have not enough for even 30 days more.

And one more thing. Help to stop the story — spread by innocents and ill-wishers alike—that there is lots of scrap already on hand. They point to junk yards, auto graveyards, and salvage depots that have not been cleaned out, as proof that there is no shortage. KILL THIS TALK BEFORE IT KILLS OUR BOYS!

In spite of the terrible lack of scrap, here is why you may still find full junk yards and scrap depots — and why they must be kept that way!

1. All scrap must be sorted, stripped, and broken up by scrap dealers before it can be used. Their yards are full because they are BUSY — preparing your scrap for the mills as fast as they possibly can!
2. Auto graveyards strip autos, keep the usable parts and junk the rest — turning out 450,000 tons of scrap in a typical month. Each must scrap within 60 days as many cars as he buys — that is the law!
3. Scrap collections sometimes have to stay around because the dealers can't handle them all immediately. Even if they could, the mills could not store it all. The local salvage depot is a stockpile — where your scrap is available for instant use as soon as it's needed. And it WILL be needed.

Remember if these places become empty, the mills shut down—and we lose the war!

So get out your scrap, and help your neighbors with theirs. It's the greatest single contribution you can make right now to win the war!

WHOSE BOY WILL DIE BECAUSE YOU FAILED?

What To Do with Your Scrap

Set It Out in Front of Your Home on the Curb Saturday Morning, by 8:00 O'Clock!

WHERE THE MONEY GOES

All scrap collected in the door to door campaign is being contributed by citizens, but this does not mean that no money will be realized from the pile of scrap collected.

When the scrap is all assembled in the scrap depot on the property of the Pennsylvania Power Company, commercial scrap dealers will be invited to bid on it. The money realized from the sale of the pile will be turned over to the United Service Organizations to be used exclusively in work among service men in this city.

In short, when you donate your scrap you are not only helping to equip that soldier boy overseas, but you are helping provide the money which will be used to serve the service men here who will need help from time to time.

NOT THE WINNER—Prince Quillo won this race at Belmont Park, but was disqualified. Judges gave it to Miss Sugar, No. 9.

Titans And Hiram Battle To 0-0 Draw

"Dick" Newton Suffers Painful Neck Injury; Ted Ossoff Hurt, Too

HOMECOMING GAME PLAYED SATURDAY

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 12—Continuing the listless play that brought about their last two setbacks, Westminster's Blue and White grididers disappointed a large Homecoming crowd by being held to a 0-0 stalemate by an underdog Hiram eleven, Saturday.

Although the Titans led in first downs, 11 to 7, and outgained the visitors by rushing, 156 yards to 134, the Ohioans did most of the serious threatening and came close to scoring in the first and fourth quarters.

Offenses Fail

Both teams' offenses failed to roll during most of the game, and as play see-sawed back and fourth the contest turned into a punting duel between Newton and Sponseller.

Hiram got its first break midway in the first period when Henry fell on Scheid's fumble on the Titan 33. The opponents moved as far as the 28, and Sponseller dropped back to try a field goal from the 35-yard line. The attempt was too short, barely reaching the end zone.

Toward the end of the initial quarter Newton got the locals into another jam when he fumbled and Spencer was there to recover the loose ball on the 18-yard line. A possible score was averted when Newton intercepted Sponseller's pass on the 12, and then booted out of danger.

Hiram Drive Fails

In the final period the Ohioans drove from the mid-stripe down to the Titan 20 before their attack bogged down and the locals took over on downs. A Hollinger to Spencer pass that carried to the 1-yard line was nullified when the visitors were offside.

Westminster finally came to life during the last five minutes of play, marching 47 yards from their own 33 to the Terriers' 20. Two passes failed and Hopkins, reserve fullback, tried a dropkick from the 30, but the kick was blocked and recovered by Hiram.

Play was held up for fifteen minutes in the final period when Newton was knocked unconscious and carried off the field with a painful neck injury. Captain Ted Ossoff may be lost to the Titans for the rest of the season with a chipped hip bone, suffered in the early moments of play. Sullivan, Hiram back, was removed from the game with a broken arm.

The Titan offense was on the move in the opening moments of play, after Sponseller had booted to the 20. Carbines and Newton chalked up three first downs, moving the ball to the 41 before Scheid fumbled. Hiram failed to make a first down until midway in the second quarter, when a Hollinger to Spencer pass with a lateral to Miner was good for 23 yards and put the ball on the Titan 26. Mastro put an end to the threat by intercepting Hollinger's pass.

Hollinger passed to Spencer who lateralized to Henry and Henry moved to the Blue and White 20. Sponseller passed to Spencer who lateralized to Henry and Henry moved to the Blue and White 20. Sponseller

Capitalizing on two fumbles and an intercepted pass for three touchdowns, New York Giants sank Philadelphia Eagles, 35 to 17.

A 70-yard march in the second period sparked by Bill Dudley, who made the final 7-yard end sweep for the score gave the Pittsburgh Steelers a 7 to 0 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets field. Andrew Niclai added the extra point. It was the Dodgers' first defeat of the season.

Washington Next Local Foe Friday

Important Class AA WPIAL Battle Is Billed For Washington High Grid

Back on the winning track, New Castle high's "Hurricane" grididers return to Taggart stadium this afternoon to start griding for Friday night's important class AA WPIAL tussle with Washington high, away from home.

Already sporting league triumphs over Beau Falls and Butler, the Canes must dispose of the tiny Presidents or see their title hopes burst like a soap bubble landing in a cactus plant.

Despite a loss to Wilkinsburg, Washington looms as one of the more powerful units in the loop.

Last year the locals registered an 18-6 triumph over Washington.

In bowing over Farrell, the localites played a snappier brand of ball than they did against Sharon. The line charged fiercely on offense and refused to open wide avenues for the visiting backs.

The Bridenbaughmen will be seeking their fifth victory of the season. The 13-13 Sharon tie is the only dent on the escutcheon.

Washington High Easily Wins, 26-0

New Castle High's next opponent, Washington High, waltzed to a 26-0 victory over McKeesport's Tigers on Saturday afternoon.

The Little Presidents, rated as one of the strongest Class AA WPIAL teams, will be the third loop opponent to be encountered by the localites.

WEEK-END SHORTS

NEW YORK, Oct. 12—Alasab holds a 2-1 edge over great Whirlaway as a result of Saturday's triumph in the $25,000 New York Handicap at Belmont park. Whirlaway finished third, a tired horse. Alasab paid $10.50, $5.10, $3.20. Oshab, second, returned $4.20 and $11. Whirly paid $2.50 to show.

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 12—Tropical Park racing season will be launched for the 12th straight season on December 12. The campaign will close on January 12.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12—Announcement has been made that Osse Bluege, one of the greatest American league infielders, will manage the Washington Senators next season.

While the salary was not disclosed, it is believed he will receive about $10,000. Bluege, 42, succeeds Stanley "Bucky" Harris.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 12—American Association league team attracted 1,669,401 fans during the '42 campaign. At 1943, George Musso is the veteran of the Chicago Bears. The guard has been in pro football for 10 years.

GARDNER ABLE TO LEAVE HOSPITAL

Faculty Manager Ralph Gardner, of the Senior high school, who underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis 10 days ago, has recovered sufficiently to be removed to his home from the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Late Saturday night football scores: Florida 6, Auburn 0; Duquesne 33, Kansas State 0; Oklahoma A. M. 9, Texas Tech 6; Wake Forest 14, Furman 7; L. S. U. 16, Mississippi State 6.

FAIR OR FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 12—There is going to be a lot of football in the next few weeks despite cancelled games, drafted players and traveling restrictions, but there also is going to be a lot of boxing around here in these parts, pardner. The rodeo has Madison Square Garden all filled up with livestock and their keepers for the time being, the Twentieth Century Sporting club is planning what might be termed a renaissance as soon as all those critters are shooed off the premises.

All of the bouts must be more or less meaningless, especially his heavyweight tussle Oct. 30 between Tami Mauriello and Lee Savold. There was a time when the winner of this one would be given some touting as an eventual heavyweight contender, whereas now the best anybody will promise these two young men is an eventual match with the winner of a bout between Bob Pastor and Jimmy Bivins slated at Cleveland Oct. 20.

These heavyweights can knock each other daffy from now on thru the duration without even getting anywhere insofar as the title is concerned for the simple reason that Set. Joe Louis won't be let out of the army to fight and if he could get out his opponent must be Corp. Billy Conn, who also can't get out.

If Conn were to be shunted aside, the next No. 1 challenger after Conn must be Melio Bettina, who also couldn't get out, making it three soldiers rather thoroughly sewed up at the duration.

Jacobs is not worrying out in heavyweight matches, however, and is thinking more of just fights with anybody in them that he can get, regardless of size, color or previous address.

Louis' Ring Career Ends

Champion Announces Retirement; At 28, Says He's Too Old For Game

ANNEXED TITLE FROM BRADDOCK

(International News Service)

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 12—The ring career of Joe Louis, regarded by many as the greatest fighter of all time, was at an end today, according to his own definite statement.

The great heavyweight champion announced his retirement in Omaha where, as Sgt. Joseph Louis Barron, he came with a crack drill platoon of Negro cavalrymen from Fort Riley, Kas., to stage intricate maneuvers between halves of the Creighton-Fort Riley football game yesterday. Creighton won, 34 to 7.

"I'm in the army now," he said. "Any fighting I do will be as a soldier."

"By the time the war is over I'll be in my thirties, and that's too old for fighting. I'm too old now."

It was assumed that, if Louis, now 28, holds to his decision, he would engage in no more bouts unless it was requested by the army for the benefit of army relief or other relief funds.

He always has made it plain that "I take my orders from the army," and hence it was believed he would make this exception if called upon.

KAYOED ONLY ONCE

Louis' only defeat in 57 fights after he graduated from the Golden Gloves amateur championship into professional ranks was at the hands of Max Schmeling by a knockout. But in a later meeting with Max he reversed that result decisively, not only knocking out the German but putting him in the hospital.

He started his professional career in 1934 and won the heavyweight championship June 22, 1937, from James J. Braddock at Comiskey Park in Chicago by a knockout.

From then until he enlisted as a private in the army last January, he met any contender that the promoters could dig up for him until he practically had exhausted the list of opponents that were regarded as having even a slight chance against him.

BOUDREAU YOUNGEST

Lori Boudreau is not only the youngest major manager, but is under contract to pilot Cleveland longer than any previous manager.

The News by Mail for 1 Year, $6.00.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Retirement of Joe Louis, world's heavyweight boxing king, will bring a sigh of regret from fans. He truly was a great fighter and a gentleman in and out of the ring. He enlisted in the army in January and is now a sergeant at Ft. Riley.

Whirlaway breathed the dust of Alasab a second time, having finished third in the 2 1/4 mile New York Handicap Saturday. Oshab was second. Count Fleet turned in a 1 3/4-mile in the Champagne stakes at Belmont Park. He is a son of Reich Count.

Joe Maxim and Larry Lane, heavyweights, will square off at Akron Tuesday with some Cleveland amateurs adopting a role of pro for the first time. The Aix is being taught something about football. The fighter planes are running interference for the Fortresses who penetrate enemy territory.

Vagrancy, outstanding contender for 3-year-old filly honors, will start in the $5,000-added Queen Isabella handicap at Laurel today. Bob Pastor and Jimmy Bivins fight in Cleveland a week from tomorrow night. Anton Christoforidis will meet the winner

JOSEPH CRATTY CRITICALLY HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Joseph Cratty, age 18 of 1226½ South Mill street, is in a critical condition in Buhl hospital, Sharon, having been injured at 7:30 a.m. today when an auto reportedly operated by James Assid, 1812 Pennsylvania avenue, this city, traveling south, struck two trucks then upset. The accident occurred south of Greenville on Route 18, according to the State Motor police.

The report stated that Joseph was seated in a coupe between his brother, Frank Cratty, also of South Mill street and Assid.

The coupe hit a cement mixer driven by Frank Sheasley, Kittanning, then careened along the road and struck another truck driven by Samuel J. Hollibaugh of West Midway.

In addition to being injured internally Joseph Cratty has lacerations of the head, fractured ribs and suffered shock.

His brother and Assid were shaken up but were not injured.

JOSEPH CRATTY CRITICALLY HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Joseph Cratty, age 18 of 1226½ South Mill street, is in a critical condition in Buhl hospital, Sharon, having been injured at 7:30 a.m. today when an auto reportedly operated by James Assid, 1812 Pennsylvania avenue, this city, traveling south, struck two trucks then upset. The accident occurred south of Greenville on Route 18, according to the State Motor police.

The report stated that Joseph was seated in a coupe between his brother, Frank Cratty, also of South Mill street and Assid.

The coupe hit a cement mixer driven by Frank Sheasley, Kittanning, then careened along the road and struck another truck driven by Samuel J. Hollibaugh of West Midway.

In addition to being injured internally Joseph Cratty has lacerations of the head, fractured ribs and suffered shock.

His brother and Assid were shaken up but were not injured.

(Special To The News)
SHARON, Pa., Oct. 12.—When I hear some of the boys and girls talk about quitting school, I just want to shake them and shout, 'Don't do it!' Mrs. Edith McIntyre of near Sharpsville, who attends Hickory high school along with her 13-year-old son, Norman, is in a position to know about the importance of schooling. She quit school herself to get married, and has regretted it to the point of going back to make up what she missed. Her son is in the eighth grade, while she is a junior; they ride the same bus daily to and from school.

Mrs. McIntyre has enthusiastically joined the girl's chorus and was initiated into the Tri-Hi-Y last week, going through the initiation like a good sport. She wore shoes that were not mates, her hair in pigtail, and an onion necklace. She is to sing a solo in assembly next week.

COMMISSIONED IN MARINES
Robert Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Ferguson, Ford City, today was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps. He was a radio announcer here and signed up at the local recruiting station.
